OUR COMPANY

All Voices International is the script translation, voice talent & production resource for all aspects of corporate, commercial, government and educational audio-standalone and audio for video applications and presentations in over 40 languages.

With more than 20 years experience in the audio production and voiceover industry and 10 years experience in managing translations and audio projects in different languages, coordinating hundreds of translators and voice talent worldwide and fulfilling customers' needs around the world, our international, dynamic staff encompasses all aspects of communication, text, audio and video in over 40 languages and language varieties for all your needs.

All Voices International relies only on select professional translators, editors and voice talent who live and work in their mother country. In our audio department this is accomplished via ISDN digital technology direct to our talent or associate studios around the world. We believe this important difference is worth the effort in order to present your project with complete accuracy and authenticity.

OUR SERVICES

All Voices International provides fully integrated text and voiceover production services in over 40 languages and language varieties. Domestic and multinational corporations as well as the international broadcast, advertising, film and multimedia industry rely on All Voices International for their multilanguage corporate videos, multimedia presentations, documentaries, educational, IVR, animations and movies, brochures, press releases and websites.
